BOOMING

The Y. M. C. A. Movement.

More Money Needed In Local Field.

Some Heavy Supporters of the Cause Elsewhere.

Secretary R. G. Hooper, of the Y. M. C. A., is working vigorously in the interests of the Association in this city and it is believed that before long sufficient money will have been contributed to warrant the beginning of work on the building. The Secretary has on hand a good supply of statistics showing how the movement has achieved success and been popular in many cities of this country. Following are some interesting statistics:

The Y. M. C. A. has found many friends among the busy business men and women of the country. Why? Because "The best use we can put money to is to develop manhood and character. Next to the home influences there is no better, surer, nor more economical way to do this than the work of the Young Men's Christian Association as now developed." The testimony of Mr. Wm. E. Dodge, a New York business man, who has contributed $325,000 to the association.

Helen Miller Gould says: "I was attracted to the Young Men's Christian Association through the very practical work it was doing for the railroad, and army and navy men." Miss Gould has given more than $425,000 to the association.

John Wannamaker, the merchant prince of America, a man who knows how to invest his money to return dividends, has given over $150,000 to association work.

Mr. William J. Young gave $20,000 to the association in his native city, Clinton, Iowa, concerning which he said before a conference of business men in Dubuque, Iowa: "I would not take back my gift and undo what has been done for a deed to the State of Iowa."

Mr. Amos Kling gave $10,000 to the Marion, O., association, because "the work of the association won my interest and has a share of my time and means because its methods are thoroughly practical and of decided moral value to a community," he explained.

Such men as John D. Rockefeller, J. Pierpont Morgan, Morris K. Jessop, John V. Farwell, and Cornelius Vanderbilt have all given largely to association work.

"There are men in Akron," says Secretary Hooper, "just as able to give as those who have given in other cities and we believe just as liberal. The work and value of the association has not been exemplified in this city, but the weight of testimony from such men, which could be multiplied a hundred fold, should stimulate interest in the association project now before the Akron people."

"There certainly is no city more in need of such an institution. We are abundantly supplied with saloons, and these in turn seem to be well patronized by young men. Where else can a young man go for recreation? The public library closes at 8:30 o'clock. If it were open until later, how many young, energetic men care to give their time to reading after a day of hard work in office, factory or shop?"

Come and hear Miss Tegardine, reader, next Wednesday evening, at Main Street M. E. Church.

What's in a Name?

Everything is in the name when it comes to Witch Hazel Salve. E. C. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago, discovered, some years ago, how to make a salve from Witch Hazel that is a specific for piles. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, eczema, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin diseases, DeWitt's Salve has no equal. This has given rise to numerous worthless counterfeits. Ask for DeWitt's—the genuine. All druggists.

Job For Bennie.

During the absence from the city of Will R. Irvin, who goes to Columbus to take an examination for admission to the bar, Benjamin Motz will take his place as Mayor's Clerk.

Hear Mrs. Wannamaker and Miss Martin at Main Street Church, Wednesday evening.

CLEANED OUT

The Barber Shop While George Slumbered On.

A brother of George Vorwerk, a barber who has a shop on North Howard st., has reported to the police that while George was intoxicated on Thursday, a companion with whom he had been drinking, accompanied him to the barber shop, and then, while George was asleep, disappeared with 11 razors, some clippers, shears, an overcoat and a pair of shoes. Vorwerk is unable to describe his assailant or remember where he was.

Knew How to Do It.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 1.—Chief Electrician Shields, of the Armour plants, committed suicide Friday by electrocuting himself in the packing house. Shields climbed out on wires near a window, and cut away the insulation. Grasping the copper in the bare places, he took the full force of the current and died instantly. His mind had become unbalanced by brooding over the prophecy of his dying father, made some years ago, that Shields would never live to be 30 years old. He would have been that age on Nov. 30.

Any Heirs Here?

Vienna, Dec. 1.—The heirs, some of whom are living in the United States, are wanted to an estate valued at about $100,000, left by Heinrich Oesterreicher, a miser who recently died here. Oesterreicher left a brother and two married sisters living somewhere in the United States, while among the heirs are three children of a deceased sister, named Rothschild.

Colds, coughs, bronchitis, pneumonia and all lung affections can be promptly cured with Hagee's Cordial of Cod Liver Oil. It stops their insidious progress and fortifies the system by renewing the waste with healthy vitality. Contains no grease and is pleasant to take.

LACK

Of Energy In Present Generation.

Emperor Wilhelm Indulged In Criticism.

Berlin, Dec. 1.—Emperor William, speaking at the opening of the Hall of Fame at Goerlitz, Prussia, criticized the present generation for its slackness in carrying on the work of the empire which its forefathers had built up at the expense of such strenuous exertions of mind and body.

"But," said the Emperor, "we stand upon the threshold of the development of the empire's powers, and our time demands a generation that understands this work. The freedom of the single individual is conditional upon his subordination to the whole. May the generation to come act with that knowledge. I wish for the German people freedom of thought, religion and scientific research, but not freedom to govern badly at one's will."

The...
Growth of

BARBERTON

Eclipsing All Prophecies of the Past

BARBERTON has grown within ten years from farm lands to a city of nearly 10,000 inhabitants. Conservative estimates predict the population to be 20,000 within the next ten years, and this is no absurd prediction, when one thinks of the wondrous growth during the past few years. Paved streets, stone sidewalks, sewerage system, water, electric light, street railway, churches, schools, banks, hotels, four trunk line railroads, the Ohio Canal, and the following factories, giving employment to several thousand skilled and unskilled laborers. No city of its size in the country has as many diversified industries so well built, so well managed, and backed by so many conservative men, whose very names spell success.
